These processes are aligned with our Food Safety Plan and Health and Safety Manual. We are committed to providing a safe place for our people to work in and a safe place for our customers to visit.

We are committed to working with our clients to provide a safe environment under Alert Level 2. We are aware that across our 60+ truck shops clients requirements may vary and to address this our Operations Team will be in contact with you to work out any additional requirements required to support safety in Alert Level 2.

OVERVIEW

New Zealand went into Alert Level 4 (lockdown), then Alert Level 3 to attack the disease early, fast, and hard with the objective of eliminating it from New Zealand.

New Zealand has now moved to Alert Level 2. However, Alert Level 2 still means that there are still significant restrictions on our day-to-day lives at work.

For the most part this visitors will be food delivery people who are contact traceable through logistics their company's supply chain as well as our on-site records.
- This includes a record of where they have been, when and who with.
